TOUR OVERVIEW

The 2025 Food Tour of Kyushu Japan in Autumn is one of our most popular tours. This tour takes you away from Japan's main island and its busy cities to explore the island of Kyushu – Japan's friendly western island famous for its temperate climate, laid-back rhythm, multicultural heritage and fantastic Kyushu food. Fukuoka was listed in the Eat Category of Lonely Planet's Best in Travel 2023.

The autumn colours in Kyushu are stunning and this tour has been purpose-built to have you surrounded by the red, brown and golden leaves. All the unique food experiences, a variety of high-quality boutique accommodations and outstanding meals included make this tour great value for money.

The tour starts and ends on Kyushu Island. We highly recommend you spend a few more days of your own before or after the group tour to discover the endless attractions of Japan in other areas especially if you are a first-time visitor to this country. Journey to the East will be delighted to plan your private itinerary and provide information to suit your interests.

*Accommodation will be as planned below or similar.

3	Sun 16/11/2025	Guided tour of Dazaifu	This morning you will have a chance to learn how to cook Japanese food yourself. But before that, you will first head to the town of Dazaifu. Here you will see the magnificent Dazaifu Tenmangu Shrine, which dates back to the 10th century. The shrine commemorates the life of a famous Kyoto poet-scholar who was exiled to Dazaifu but later deified as the god of literature and scholarship. A great way to get an informative overview of Japanese history within the context of the broader Asian region is with a visit to the Kyushu National Museum with your guide. JttE Special Experience #1! Then, you arrive at a cooking studio at a renovated traditional house in a suburb of Fukuoka. Here a creative food expert will passionately pass on recipes of Japanese dishes, which you can recreate at home. JttE Special Experience #2! Dinner tonight is another iconic slice of Hakata food culture – the Yatai food cart. These mobile carts roll into the city in the evening and serve up delicious food cooked right in front of you. Seating only 10 people, the relaxed atmosphere, shared conversation, and delicious food make it an unmissable Hakata food experience.	Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner	THE BLOSSOM HAKATA Premier [Twin or King Room]

During Japan's closed-door period in the 17th and 18th centuries, Nagasaki was the only city open to the rest of the world. In Nagasaki, you will feel the influence of the time when it was visited by Dutch, Portuguese and French missionaries, as well as the impressions left by traders from Europe, China, Korea and Southeast Asia. Tonight, you enjoy a unique regional cuisine called Shippoku, a cuisine developed by combining Japanese, Chinese and Western cuisines. Another claim to fame in Nagasaki is its breathtaking night view.
